A BARONET'S WIFE.

Refuses to Return.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 4.—Kathleen Bruce Austin, an intelligent, well-bred Scotch woman, reached this city some months ago and became a domestic. She was very melancholy, and being found weeping one day, told her story. She married Sir Francis Austin, a baronet of Aberdeen, Scotland, two years ago, and on account of ill treatment, left him and came to this country, bringing her late husband's jewels, and being found weeping one day, told her story.

A SNOWSLIDE

Occurs on the West Side of the Sierra Nevada.

At Least Seven Lives Known to Have Been Lost.

Others May Be Buried in the Drift—Four Dwellings and a Catholic Church Destroyed by the Enormous Weight of Snow—It Is Feared Another Avalanche, Greater Than This, Is About to Descend Into the Valley.

SIERA CITY, Cal., Jan. 6.—An enormous quantity of snow suddenly tumbled down the mountain side here Friday, burying everything before it, and causing the death of at least seven persons. For a day or two past fears had been entertained that a large mass of snow, which had accumulated at what is known as Butler's Run, might give way, and a further fall take place. The weather had, however, remained clear, and people were slowly becoming reassured.

Had No Time to Escape. Just before noon Friday, however, the citizens suddenly heard a subterranean rumbling sound, as if a strong wind among trees. On looking up toward Butler's Run, they saw the danger, and everybody took to flight. Those in the immediate track of the huge mass, however, had not sufficient time to make their escape, and of these seven were overwhelmed.

The Victims. The victims are as follows: Mrs. Rich, with her little son and daughter. Mrs. Ryan, of Downsville. Mrs. J. T. Moore and daughter. Miss Ethel Lang.

The Enormous Force. The force of the snowslide was so great that it was impossible to escape. The force of the snowslide was so great that it was impossible to escape. The force of the snowslide was so great that it was impossible to escape.

Denial Not to Be Increased. Besides those whose names are given several others were killed by the landslide. One Chinaman and a little girl are still buried. It is not known whether the bodies of the Chinese were recovered. Two of the victims were alive when dug out of the snow, but died very soon.

Years of Another Avalanche. It is feared that another tremendous bank of snow now built up there might give way. Should it do so, great disaster is certain to ensue.

HEAVY RAINS. Reported from Missouri—Rivers Over Their Banks—Much Damage Done. St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 6.—The following report was received Saturday afternoon from St. Louis, Mo.: The heaviest rains have prevailed in the West for many days. The water has been rising for five days, and now all the bottom lands on either side of the Mississippi are under water. Every farm is entirely inundated. Cattle and sheep are being drowned. The water is rising so fast that it is impossible to escape. The water is rising so fast that it is impossible to escape.

COLOR MEN IN COUNCIL

They Criticize the Recent Troubles in Harwell County, S. C.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 4.—Pursuant to a call issued a few days ago by prominent negroes in Charleston for a meeting to discuss the recent wholesale lynching in Harwell County, this city, Geo. S. J. Lee of Charleston, and Preston A. E. Hampton of the colored fraternal association, were among those present.

On a notice of only three days twenty-six out of thirty-four counties were represented. Lee addressed the convention and said they had met there to ask the whites to join with them in preserving order. He wanted it understood that this was no indignation meeting; it was simply to ask the law-abiding citizens of both races to work together.

Resolutions adopted condemning the taking of human life in any way other than in the vindication of the honor and integrity of the state as a whole to all justifiable when done for the preservation of human life and the sanctity of the law. The members of the convention were asked to remain quiet and let the proper authorities vindicate the law.

Every citizen who dwells upon the decision of the negro to the whites during the war, condemned the news of the recent troubles in Harwell County, S. C. The members of the convention were asked to remain quiet and let the proper authorities vindicate the law.
